Dear Milt:

Just wanted to give you a quick note and tell you how much my company and I enjoyed your performance last week at our Leadership Summit Meeting.

When we considered a comedian for our event, we knew that we would have to find a comic that was not only very funny, but who was also very clean and who could perform for a corporate audience. We knew that was asking a lot and we had our doubts that we would be able to find anyone who could meet our needs.

Fortunately for us, we were able to book you for our event. Not only were you extremely funny, but your material was clean, your presentation was corporately respectful and your professionalism was apparent at every turn.

I would be happy to recommend you for additional functions whenever possible.

Thank you once again for performing at our event!

Sincerely,

Bob Stobener
